

Your Weekly Security Awareness Newsletter #202

#WeeklyCybersecurityTip: Watch what you're sharing on social networks!

To receive these direct to your inbox, sign up here.

17 January 2022

1 GUEST ESSAY: Why Microsoft Exchange users 'must have' robust data recovery policies, practices

Cloud hosted email services have come into wide use as the go-to communication and collaboration work tools for businesses far and wide. Related: Weaponized email endures as top threat Digital native companies start from day one relying entirely on Microsoft Office 365 or Google's G Suite and most e...

Read more

2 How banks can help counter Human Trafficking

Today marks National Human Trafficking Awareness Day. While predominately recognised in the US, it is for sure a global issue that banks can help address with the right technology and training, according to Brian Ferro, director of AML at Feedzai and certified anti-money laundering specialist. More ...

Read more

3 Several EA accounts compromised by phishing mails

Recently, it has been revealed that several EA Sports accounts were compromised by hackers via phishing techniques. The threat-actors exploited EA's live chat, targeting high-profile players for account takeover. The attackers utilised social engineering methods, exploiting errors within the custome...

Read more

4 8 Most Popular Global Offshore Resources

In the era of remote work, companies can cut costs on office rentals and optimize team structures. That's why outsourcing a specialist or hiring an offshore team becomes more popular. And recruiting workers from other countries is often more budget-friendly than hiring in-house employees. Moreover,...

Read more

Keepnet Labs Limited © 2021 - <https://www.keepnetlabs.com>

Subscribe to our newsletter to receive regular information on contemporary anti-phishing tricks, industry-leading solutions. You may unsubscribe at any time. For more information, check out our Privacy Policy.

