

Your Weekly Security Awareness Newsletter #206

#WeeklyCybersecurityTip: Make sure users are trained to recognize phishing attacks!

To receive these direct to your inbox, sign up here.

14 February 2022

1 GUEST ESSAY: The case for network defenders to focus on leading – not lagging – indicators

A key CEO responsibility is reporting results that deliver on a company's mission to shareholders. This reporting often requires a host of metrics that define success, like Annual Recurring Revenue and sales for software as a service (SaaS) companies. These are lagging indicators where the results f...

Read more

2 Friday Squid Blogging: Are Squid from Another Planet?

An actually serious scientific journal has published a paper speculating that octopus and squid could be of extraterrestrial origin. News article. As usual, you can also use this squid post to talk about the security stories in the news that I haven't covered. Read my blog posting guidelines here. ...

Read more

3 GUEST ESSAY: Addressing data leaks and other privacy, security exposures attendant to M&As Merger and acquisition (M&A) activity hit record highs in 2021, and isn't expected to slow down anytime soon. Related: Stolen data used to target mobile services Many attribute this steady growth to the increase in work-from-home models and adoption of cloud services since the beginning of the COVID...

Read more

4 Zimbra Zero-day XSS Vulnerability Actively Exploited by Attackers to Steal Sensitive Data

Threat actors are actively exploiting the Zimbra zero-day XSS vulnerability to steal data, and it's believed that the hackers who have exploited the zero-day vulnerability in Zimbra's open-source email and collaboration platform are linked to China. The hackers are abusing the Zimbra zero-day XSS vu...

Read more

Keepnet Labs Limited © 2021 - <https://www.keepnetlabs.com>

Subscribe to our newsletter to receive regular information on contemporary anti-phishing tricks, industry-leading solutions. You may unsubscribe at any time. For more information, check out our Privacy Policy.

keepnetlabs

keepnetlabs

keepnetlabsltd

keepnetlabs

keepnetlabs.com

